

SOCIETY.

ing of June the fifth, at 6 o'clock, at the Pennsylvania Avenue Baptist Church, the Rev. Dr. R. F. Y. Place officiating. Owing to the fact that the bride was not yet out of mourning for her mother, there were no bridesmaids, other than her two sisters, and no reception following the ceremony.

The bride, who is one of three strikingly beautiful sisters, walked down the aisle with her father, who gave her away.

She wore white crepe de chine, made in princess effect with embroidered yoke, inset with chiffon and applied with medallions embroidered in chiffon. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of white swanonia.

Mrs. Malcolm E. Walthall, of Condon, W. Va., was matron of honor. She and her maid of honor, Miss Nollie Delaney, were attired alike in white French mull gowns, inset with batiste embroidery and meshin lace. Both carried beautiful shower bouquets of lavender sweet peas.

The best man was Mr. Ashby Turner, of Louisville, Ky., brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers, Mr. J. Dallas Smith, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Hunter Merch, of Richmond, Va.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. M. Turner, of Newport, N. Va., the bridegroom's mother; Mrs. W. W. Woodfolk, of Richmond; Mrs. C. L. Bigelow, of Richmond, Va., grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. J. W. Delaney, of New York.

The bride was the recipient of a countless array of beautiful gifts. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Turner left immediately for a coast trip to the South, and upon their return they will reside in New York City, where Mr. Turner is officially connected with the Manhattan Briar Pipe Company.

Miss Clark's Scholarship. Miss Adele Clark, daughter of Mr. Robert Clark, of New Orleans, and niece of Mr. E. S. Goodman, of No. 156 Grove Avenue, has been awarded a scholarship in Chase's Art School, New York City, by unanimous vote of the Board of Directors.

The official intimation received by Miss Clark informed her of her success, and she has always been a highly trained worker in the school as Miss Eleanor Houston, of Richmond, had done during the past winter.

Miss Anderson's Honors. Certainly friends of Miss Mary Gooch Anderson, of Clifton Forge, Va., and those of her parents, Judge and Mrs. George K. Anderson, have every reason to think her a much honored young lady, after the laurel harvest she has just gathered in at Hollins and her success as an essayist earlier in the year.

Miss Anderson is a typical Virginia girl of culture and talent, and her career has hitherto been one marked by unusual achievement. If the past shadows forth the future, and it generally does, Miss Anderson cannot fail to be a credit to her State and an ornament to the community in which she lives.

Off for Convention. Miss Mary Hawes Tyler, of Richmond College, will leave this week for Knoxville, Tennessee, where she now is a delegate to the national convention of the Zeta Alpha sorority, convening in that city Wednesday, June 13th.

Misses Mary Urner, and Mary Simpson, of New York, who, with Miss de Forest, has one of the most attractive salons, musically and socially, in the metropolis, Miss Knowles will remain in Richmond for the next month. Her plans for next winter are not yet matured.

Taylor Ellyson, Crump, and Miss Hotchkiss have been established at "Wyndover," a beautiful country home near the University of Virginia, on the Ivy Road. The family will remain at "Wyndover" until the first of October, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mr. Crump paying week-end visits, and remaining in their Richmond offices during the rest of the time, thus verifying the old adage of "Business before pleasure."

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo D. Hotchkiss adjoins "Wyndover" and the family left yesterday to enter upon their summer residence, in pleasant proximity of the Ellyson home. Hon. Eugene Massey has a lovely country place in the vicinity of the university which is always a center of summer hospitality. After to-morrow tea will be served every Monday afternoon until further notice, the daily tea being also continued indefinitely.

Arrangements are being made to hold a book reception early in the fall, and members are requested, in buying their summer literature, to purchase with a view to donating the books to the club at that time.
